Peace dividends: Mindanao attracts investors

MALAYSIA'S Felda Global Ventures, the world's largest crude palm oil producer, is the first foreign investor to evince interest in Mindanao after the government agreed on a historic peace deal with Moro rebels, potentially opening up tracts of farm land.

President Aquino announced on Sunday that the government and the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) had agreed on a framework accord to end 40 years of conflict in impoverished Mindanao.

Officials have cautioned that the deal is only a first step as the two sides need to thresh out details on the scope and powers of a new autonomous region, to be called Bangsamoro.

Supreme Court issues 120-day TRO on cyberlaw

By Norman Bordadora and Christine O. Avendaño

"THE FIRST victory of the people and of freedom of expression."

That was how Sen. Teofisto Guingona III described the Supreme Court's issuance yesterday of a temporary restraining order (TRO) suspending implementation of the Cybercrime Prevention Act for 120 days while the high tribunal decides whether the law violates civil liberties.

The court in a unanimous resolution directed respondents led by President Aquino and top administration officials to comment within 10 days on 15 petitions filed by Guingona and journalists' groups, bloggers and netizens seeking to scrap a harsh penalty for online libel of up to 12 years in prison.

In its en banc meeting, the high tribunal set oral arguments on Jan. 15 on the case, according to the minute resolution. It said that the order was effective immediately. It said that for 120 days, the administration should refrain from enforcing the law.

The announcement of the TRO was met with jubilation by

UN, Australia, EU laud PH for 'historical leap'

By TJ Burgonio

THE UNITED Nations, Australia and the European Union yesterday hailed the Philippine government for taking a "historical leap" to ending decades-old conflict with secessionist rebels in Mindanao.

UN Secretary General Ban Ki-moon praised the preliminary peace accord between the Philippine government and the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) ending a protracted Muslim separatist insurgency that killed 150,000 people, offering UN aid "as needed."

The agreement would see the establishment of a new autonomous region in resource-rich Mindanao, which the 12,000-strong MILF regards as its ancestral homeland.

Ban commended President Aquino for his "vision and courage, as well as the commitment of the MILF leadership, in reaching this landmark achievement," according to a UN statement.

Ban said the United Nations was prepared to help the Philippines implement the agreement.

BPI Family Unveils All-in-One Financing Facility for Entrepreneurs

BPI Family Savings Bank (BPI Family), through the Ka-Negosyo Loan program, introduces its newest financing facility that provides the easiest ways for entrepreneurs to access their credit line. The "Ka-Negosyo Credit Line" is a multi-purpose and multi-access stand-by loan facility that provides utmost flexibility to the modern businessman.

"A quantitative research that we have conducted with Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) has significantly shown the need of entrepreneurs for an all-in-one business financing product that can easily be accessed for a wide array of transactions. Here, at BPI Family, we stand by our commitment to make it easy for Filipino entrepreneurs to attain business success through our financing programs," shares Cedoy Roces, BPI Family VP and Head of Ka-Negosyo Loans.

Now, money management is easier as clients get full control of their business disbursements with the BPI Family Ka-Negosyo Credit Line. It gives entrepreneurs easier ways to access their funds anytime whenever the need arises. From the traditional check transaction, clients can withdraw from any BPI ATM branches or swipe their ATM card through the bank's Express Payment System (POS transaction) to purchase inventory, supplies, and other business requirements.

Ka-Negosyo Credit Line is also an all-in-one money product that offers a revolutionary enhancement to make it even easier for entrepreneurs to access emergency funds. Aside from being a credit line which allows clients to easily access their cash, the Ka-Negosyo Credit Line can also be used to pay suppliers via third party funds transfer and even pay bills through BPI Express Online, Express Phone, and Express Mobile any time, any day and anywhere. It is like having an extra pocket for unexpected financing needs or investment opportunities.

Roces adds, "We want to provide nothing but the most convenient banking services for entrepreneurs. Now that we've made the BPI Family Ka-Negosyo Credit Line accessible through ATM and Express Payment System, via check issuance, and through online, entrepreneurs can now multi-task on their business activities."

Unlike other credit facilities that compound interest monthly, Ka-Negosyo Credit Line's interest computation is on a per day basis so that clients get the best value for their money with its low interest rate. Interest computation is daily so that interest charges are exact, never rounded-up. Truly, BPI Ka-Negosyo Credit Line offers great value for money, as it provides maximum convenience and security on top of low interest pricing versus other alternative products available in the market today.

To know more and to apply for a BPI Family Ka-Negosyo Credit Line with ATM Card, log-on to bpiloans.com. You may also call 754-NEGO, email kanegosyo@bpi.com.ph, text 0917-882NEGO or 0922-882NEGO, or visit any of BPI and BPI Family Savings Bank branches nationwide.

Gather all info on gun owners, Mar tells PNP

By Marlon Ramos

INTERIOR Secretary Mar Roxas has ordered the Philippine National Police (PNP) to consolidate all the information it has on gun owners in known election hotspots as part of security preparations ahead of next year's elections.

"We discussed preparing strategic moves as early as now. The PNP will also implement tactical moves as the elections near to lessen the possibility of violence during the polls," Roxas told reporters on Monday.

"One of our instructions will be to consolidate the information [about] gun owners from the (PNP) Firearms Explosives Office," he said.

Roxas said the reports on loose firearms would also be "consolidated and integrated with all intelligence operations to ensure that the PNP would be effective in conducting security operations for the upcoming elections."

In his first command conference with the PNP at Camp Crame, Roxas directed the 17 regional police directors and other senior officers to begin mapping out their respective operational plans for the elections.

The secretary said the PNP should be able to come up with the list of registered gun owners and those who were granted permits to carry firearms in election hotspots.

He said the database would be given to regional, provincial and town police chiefs "so they will know the individuals and groups that maintain private armies, licensed or otherwise, in their areas."

"With this consolidated and integrated information, the (police) will be ready to take on the challenges during the elections."

"A lot of it is preparation. A lot of it is actually intelligence work. A lot of it will be a training and preparing for the right deployment of resources," he added.

Regular jail sought for GMA

STATE prosecutors will move for the immediate transfer to a regular jail of former President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo unless the Sandiganbayan, which is trying the plunder case against her, allows Arroyo's continued confinement at the state-owned Veterans Memorial Medical Center.

Lead prosecutor [illegible] said the "law does not make a distinction whether an accused is a lowly government clerk or the highest official of the land."

"There should be no special treatment. Arroyo has been previously discharged (from the hospital) on the advice of her doctors," he said.

[illegible] said he would ask Arroyo's attending physicians about her current medical condition so the prosecutors and the justices themselves would decide.

Arroyo and nine other former officials of the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office (PCSO) and the Commission on Audit were indicted for plunder, a nonbailable crime, for allegedly conspiring to misuse P366 million of the PCSO's intelligence fund from 2008 to 2010. Cynthia D. Balana

Box left on bus causes bomb scare

Handwritten note tells bus personnel to call police, appeals for change

DAYS after a box containing pieces of broken glass caused panic at the Recto station of the Light Rail Transit Line 2 in Manila, another bomb scare was reported, this time near the South Harbor following the discovery of a package left on a passenger bus plying the Lawton-SM Southmall route yesterday morning.

The box seemed harmless enough but it was the handwritten note that had been left on top of it, as well a cell phone, that prompted the bus conductor, Claudio [illegible], to immediately call for help at 9:15 a.m.

The note read: "May itinanim akong bomba [illegible] I want you to stop the bus at the post office and call the police. Don't try to take and throw the bomb because one move and 'boom' ... Change the Philippines."

Immediately after the discovery of the box, the driver of the 'DAS Trans' bus stopped the vehicle on the southbound lane of Bonifacio Drive and ordered everyone to get out.

Responding members of bomb squad of the Manila Police District (MPD) later cordoned off the area as one of their members, SPO2 Christopher [illegible], used a water charge to neutralize the contents of the box.

A check later showed that it contained no explosives, only sand, two batteries and two pieces of black and white wires, said Chief Insp. Erwin Margarejo of the MPD Public Information Office.

According to Margarejo, the bomb scare may be related to a labor dispute in the bus company.

"The suspect may want to create a negative image of the bus [company] ... to discourage passengers from taking the bus," he said although he added, "But this is just a possibility. We are still investigating."

A MEMBER of the Manila police bomb squad comes out of the 'DAS Trans' bus after he determines that the package believed to contain an explosive just contains sand, batteries and electrical wires.

A DAY at the Caravan: checking out the FT-86 2-liter engine, signing up for the test drives and a look at the country's bestselling car, the Vios

More fun at the Caravan

Toyota's biggest car sale is also one unforgettable family event

By Chester L. Bolen
Photos by Richard Reyes and Eugene Arranda

TOYOTA officials led by president Michinobu Sugata (center) formally opening this year's Caravan.

WITH A lot of help from the sales agents, the Caravan is one of the easiest ways to look for Toyota models.

BY END-OCTOBER expect the number of vehicles sold in the country to reach dramatic figures. Credit should go to what Toyota Motor Philippines is spearheading this week—from Oct. 5 to 12—that will surely convince buyers not to hold back any longer and bring home their dream Toyota right away.

"This is the perfect time to buy a Toyota. The 2012 Toyota Caravan—which is now on its fourth year—is our way of saying thank you to all the support that the market has given us," announced TMP president Michinobu Sugata as he formally opened the week-long event happening at the corner of 26th Street and 5th Avenue in Bonifacio Global City (right beside the Mercato Centrale weekend food market and near the Lexus Manila showroom).

The 2012 Toyota Caravan will enable new car buyers enjoy discounts of as much as P200,000 on top of the ongoing monthly sales promos.

"This sales event will be a one-stop shop that will provide customers a more convenient and more enjoyable purchasing experience. Moreover, TMP will be giving away the biggest discounts in its history during this event. Just walking into the venue, visitors will already get an automatic P5,000 discount off their new-car purchase while test-driving any of the Toyota vehicles on site gives them an additional discount of up to P5,000," said TMP first vice president for marketing Raymond Rodriguez.

Even those trading in their old vehicles are eligible for discounts of up to P50,000, while current Toyota owners may be able avail of up to P30,000 off when they buy a brand-new Toyota.

There's also the P500,000 discount that one individual can get through the daily reservation raffle. In addition, by simply reserving a brand-new Toyota at the event, customers will get raffle coupons for a chance to win one of the five brand-new Innovas or one of the five brand-new Vios units under the Toyota Best Sellers raffle promo.

TEST-DRIVING the new Hi-Lux

New Vios variants

The 2012 Toyota Caravan is set to make car shopping more exciting such as TMP will showcase its latest variants including that of its bestseller, the Vios compact sedan. There will be three limited variants of the Vios namely, the sleek-looking 1.5-liter TRD edition (which sports 17-inch alloy wheels, a modified exhaust, a rear lip spoiler, side skirts, and a special "TRD" badge); the manual 1.3-liter G variant that is equipped with fog lamps and the 15-inch alloy wheels; and the 1.3-liter J variant that has been upgraded with fog lamps, 15-inch alloy wheels, and a special "Limited" badge.

The Toyota Vios currently remains the bestselling vehicle in the car market, with an average of close to 1,200 units sold monthly (a total of 13,267 units already sold year-to-date).

Much improved

There's also the more powerful variants of the Fortuner SUV and Hilux pickup. These [illegible] now have [illegible] engines featuring Toyota's new and advanced Variable Nozzle Turbo-charger Technology, with Intercooler that not only improves fuel efficiency but also provide additional [illegible] percent engine power, or [illegible] (horsepower) as well as additional 20 percent torque (343 Newton meters).

The VNT equipped 3.0-liter variants include the 4-speed automatic 4x4 V Fortuner, the G 4-speed automatic 4x2 [illegible], the 5-speed manual 4x4 G Fortuner; the 4-speed automatic 4x4 G Hilux, and 5-speed manual 4x4 G Hilux.

Buyers should also be amazed at the updated Innova and Avanza, two of TMP's best seller brands. The 2012 Innova now sports a new grille design, more aggressive fascia, new head and tail lamps, side mirrors, new rocker panels and new 15-inch alloy wheels. The 2012 Avanza on the other hand, already has an improved interior design and the body's weight has been reduced to give it a better fuel efficiency (12 km per liter mileage).

High-net-worth individuals should be glad to know that the Toyota Caravan will also offer the all-new Camry in either 2.5-liter ([illegible] horsepower) and 3.5-liter ([illegible] horsepower) variants. Both are equipped with a 6-speed sequential automatic transmission.

Toyota Bi-merchandise

TMP also informs that visitors of the Toyota Caravan will be able to win exclusive Toyota merchandise just by joining the Tamiya RC remote control racing competition.

"I would like to commend Tamiya Philippines Inc. and Lil's Hobby Center, the country's authorized distributor of Tamiya products for the support they have provided and making sure the Tamiya RC Competition would be a huge event. It should be noted that in 1994, Tamiya Japan established its manufacturing hub in Mactan export processing zone of Cebu where their plastic and radio controlled models as well as other products are produced and exported to various countries including Japan," Sugata said.

Sugata added that there are also other activities to be held at the venue to ensure that the whole family will have a wonderful experience during the weeklong event.

THE SIGNAGE says it all in big, bold letters.

EVEN accessorizing your vehicle is made easy.

THE Tamiya Bi-remote control competition is an exciting side event.

TMP informed that those far from Metro Manila can also enjoy the Toyota Caravan by visiting any of Toyota's 35 provincial dealerships nationwide. Here they can also get up to P200,000 worth of discounts.

Several milestones

"This year has been filled with several milestones in our partner social responsibility, production, and sales," acknowledged Sugata who promised to make this year's biggest Toyota car sale one unforgettable family event.

Sugata is confident that this biggest TMP sales event will ensure TMP solid grip on the market. As of August 2012, TMP continues to dominate the industry with a 40.5-percent share of the market. TMP is optimistic that it will be able to sell a total of 62,000 units this year, a 33.6-percent increase from last year's figure of 54,093 units.

With TMP selling the most number of units in each vehicle class it would no longer be surprising if the Japanese brand will again capture the Triple Crown (TCM), that is, for being No. 1 in overall sales, No. 1 in passenger cars and No. 1 in commercial vehicles.

OLIVIA and I have known each other since kindergarten in the French School of Manila. Back then, our parents had signed us up for Madame [illegible]'s art class [illegible]. Did I expect for a second that 20 years later her work would be exhibited in Paris' Museum of Modern Art?

Good and pure intentions are all you need to help others, say this year's Jollibee Family Values awardees

A FEW MONTHS ago, I was invited to be part of a panel of judges for a nationwide search for five Filipino families; not just any family, but families that embodied Filipino values such as joy, unity, optimism, close-knit bonding and generosity, among many others. At the same time, these families were also expected to have made an impact on and helped uplift their respective communities by contributing to it in a significant and measurable manner.

MakatiMed provides faster, better, more comfortable MRI exams with state-of-the-art Siemens machine

In keeping with its commitment to provide modern hospital care, Makati Medical Center, the country's premier health institution, launched its new and improved Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) service with the acquisition of Germany-made MRI machine Siemens MAGNETOM Aera 1.5T, the latest MRI system from industry giant Siemens.

"We want to become the preeminent imaging center in the country," said Ramon Santos-Ocampo, MD, Chairman of MakatiMed's Department of Radiology. "We have a dedicated team of radiologists and technologists who have specialized in providing the best imaging service for our patients. Now we're matched with a state-of-the-art machine."

MRI is a radiology technique that provides vivid images of anatomical structures, using magnetic fields instead of X-rays. It is used in the detection of abnormalities in organs and tissues such as tumors, aneurysms, tears, or inflammation.

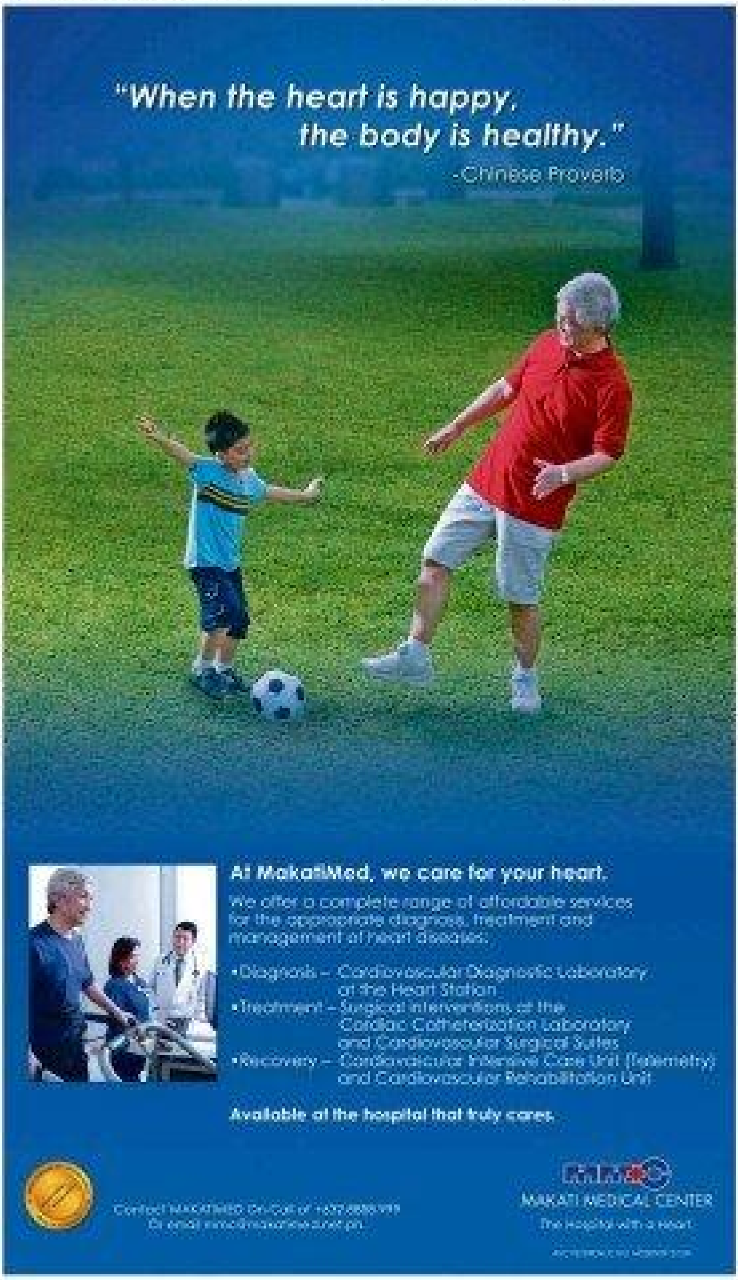

According to Dr. Santos-Ocampo, the Magnetom Aera produces images that are sharper and clearer than other systems, leading to more accurate diagnosis and treatment. The machine is also more patient-friendly. "It has a more spacious design and better lighting to lessen claustrophobia in patients," Dr. Santos-Ocampo said. "The new machine can also handle plus-size patients weighing up to 250 kilograms (550 lbs)."

MakatiMed has also added an MRI-compatible anesthesia machine for patients who need sedation to make the examination more comfortable.

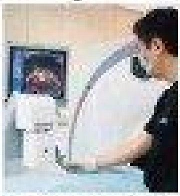

Other advantages to the new system include additional information in spectroscopy that will help doctors identify breast cancer in its early stages; ability to map iron deposition in the heart or liver; cartilage mapping for detecting abnormal changes in the cartilage in the knees; whole body MRI and diffusion imaging for complete screening; prostate spectroscopy to determine the need for biopsy; and diffusion tensor imaging and functional MRI to aid in planning brain surgery to minimize damage.

"The new system removes the guesswork and variability of the examination present before," said Dr. Santos-Ocampo. "All branches of medicine will benefit from this technology now available in MakatiMed."

For more information, please contact the Department of Radiology at 8888.999 local 2676, 2670, 2671, email [illegible], or visit them at the Ground Floor of Tower 1, Makati Medical Center, 2 Amorsolo Street, Legaspi Village, Makati City.

Experience high-tech "robotic" treatment for back pain

Fulfilling its promise of state-of-the-art healthcare guided by the latest technologies, MakatiMed's Section of Interventional Radiology under the Department of Radiology uses the Robio Ex for pain injections.

This is an enhancement on the minimally invasive treatment for back pain that MakatiMed has employed for the past five years. Ramon Santos-Ocampo, MD, Radiology Department Chairman and Section Chief of Interventional Radiology, adapted the Robio Ex, originally designed for precise targeting of lesions for biopsy and ablation, for CT-guided pain injections beginning April this year.

"We decided to get the Robio because we noticed that it allowed us to do our procedures with fewer scans on the patient," he said. "This ultimately results in a lower radiation dose. It also made it easier to plan for more difficult angulations during the biopsy or spine injection procedures."

The Robio Ex has an Integrated Planning Station where Radiologists can plan procedures, and a robotic arm that converts the plan to accurate needle trajectory, ensuring complete patient comfort.

Typically, a procedure lasts an average of 15 minutes. He said many patients were very satisfied with the treatment and even referred their friends with similar problems. "In some cases, some patients do not require a second injection or follow-up treatment," he said.

He said the Section of Interventional Radiology will continue to provide "minimally invasive solutions for various diseases including cancer treatment, vascular disease and pain management."
